Endorsements of Nobel Laureates

Ferid Murad
University of Texas
Medical School-Houston
Texas, U.S.A.

The Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine (1998) and the Albert Lasker Award for Basic Medical Research (1996)

For their discoveries concerning nitric oxide as a signalling molecule in the cardiovascular system

"Current Medicinal Chemistry is a leading journal in the field of medicinal chemistry where cutting edge reviews in hot topic areas are regularly published. It provides scientists in the field with comprehensive review articles written by experts and eminent researchers in the field and allows them to keep abreast with the latest developments in the field. The journal is highly recommended to all scientists in the field of medicinal chemistry."

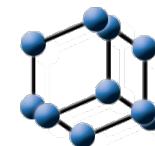

Jean-Marie Lehn
Université Louis Pasteur
Strasbourg, France

The Nobel Prize in Chemistry 1987

For the development and use of molecules with structure-specific interactions of high selectivity.

"Current Topics in Medicinal Chemistry is recommended as a forum for the publication and review of important aspects of medicinal chemistry including the design and synthesis of compound libraries for bioactivity testing."

Endorsements of Nobel Laureates

BENTHAM SCIENCE

Robert Huber

Max-Planck-Institut
für Biochemie Martinsried,
Martinsried, Germany

The Nobel Prize in Chemistry 1988

For the determination of the three-dimensional structure of a photosynthetic reaction centre.

"Current Genomics represents a frontier review journal, which contains comprehensive reviews written by leading scientists in the respective fields. This journal presents the latest developments in the area of genomics. This is strongly recommended."

Herbert C. Brown † (1912 - 2004)

Purdue University
West Lafayette, USA

The Nobel Prize in Chemistry 1979

For the development of the use of boronand phosphorus-containing compounds, respectively, into important reagents in organic synthesis.

"Current Organic Chemistry is an important review journal, which should prove to be of wide interest to organic chemists and provide them with a convenient means of keeping up with the current flood of advances in the field."

Editorial Board / Authors

- A dominant element in the success of Bentham journals is the selection of key editors worldwide.
- Majority of publishing authors and editorial board members are from top international universities and research institutions in North America and Europe
- Key Opinion Leaders Worldwide

Review Process

- Plagiarism check through i-thenticate®
- Electronic submission and evaluation system
 - All reviewer comments are recorded in our system
- Double blind peer review process
 - Journal editor and author do not know who is reviewing the manuscript. This removes peer bias.
- 2 stage peer review
 - Initial review for suggestions and changes
 - Final review for incorporation of suggested changes
 - Final approval rests with the journal editor-in-chief

Thematic Article Collections

- Thousands of scholarly journal articles available
- Grouped into themes of specific diseases
- Competitive pricing and a low commitment level
- Flexible periodic validity for library patrons
- Optional download of PDF versions for personal use

Benefits of Thematic Article Collections

- Access scholarly articles on over 25 diseases, medical specialties and engineering.
- Meet your students' and researchers' information needs
- Token licensing system allows libraries to purchase access based on their patrons' usage and save costs.
- Access new research content in a category as soon as it is published.
